At Performance Dance Center, multiple classes and rehearsals often take place at the same time, creating a lively but challenging acoustic environment. Music, instruction, and movement noise easily carried between adjacent studios, leading to distractions that affected focus, timing, and overall instruction quality for both dancers and instructors.

To address this, All Noise Control installed the ANC-17 Acoustic Curtain system using elegant acoustic curtains designed to complement the beauty and openness of the performance spaces. These sound curtains created flexible studio separation while still allowing instructors and students to move freely and maintain clear sightlines.

The system significantly reduced sound bleed between studios. With ANC-17 in place, the dance center achieved improved acoustics and clearer instruction while preserving the visual and artistic character that defines its creative environment.
