“Before the curtains were added, it could get pretty distracting when other classes or rehearsals were happening at the same time. You’d hear music or voices from nearby studios, and it sometimes made it hard to stay focused.

After the ANC-17 Acoustic Curtains were installed, things definitely got better. The sound from other rooms isn’t as noticeable anymore, but the studios still feel open and creative. The curtains don’t get in the way at all, and they actually look really nice.

Classes feel more focused now, and it’s easier to hear instructions and stay in the moment. It’s made practicing and rehearsing a lot more comfortable.”
