“At Pfizer, maintaining sterile, controlled, and compliant cleanroom environments is central to our pharmaceutical manufacturing and research operations. Mechanical systems and continuous airflow are essential to our process, but the resulting noise reflections within hard-surfaced cleanrooms were impacting communication and overall acoustic comfort for our teams.

All Noise Control provided a Cleanroom Wall Panel solution specifically engineered for hygienic environments. The modular panels were installed seamlessly into our facility without disrupting operations. Their smooth, fully encapsulated finish aligned with our cleanliness standards while delivering noticeable improvement in sound absorption.

Since implementation, we’ve experienced improved speech intelligibility within active production areas and a more controlled acoustic environment overall. The system integrates cleanly with our facility design and supports both operational efficiency and long-term performance goals.”
