“Our fabrication and testing areas require a stable, controlled environment to maintain process accuracy. Over time, reflective wall surfaces in corridor and support spaces contributed to sound carryover between departments. The All Noise Control Cleanroom Wall Panels provided a practical way to manage acoustics without altering the integrity of our cleanroom systems.

Since installation, we’ve experienced improved sound containment between operational zones and better clarity during team coordination. The hygienic construction and modular design made the panels an ideal solution for our semiconductor facilities. They delivered the acoustic control we needed while maintaining the strict environmental standards our operations demand.”
